

Dr. Phillip Stracener

VP, Operations and Global Facility Solutions, XBow

Dr. Phillip D. Stracener Jr. is an aerospace and defense executive with over 23 years of experience in advanced manufacturing, facility modernization, and engineering leadership. As Vice President of Operations and Global Facility Solutions at X-Bow Launch Systems Inc., Phillip leads global expansion efforts, facility modernization initiatives, and the integration of Lean/Smart Manufacturing practices. Phillip's background includes program management and engineering roles at Aerojet Rocketdyne, where he contributed to the design of tactical solid rocket motors and propulsion systems. Phillip holds a Doctorate in Engineering Management and is passionate about driving innovation and operational excellence in the defense sector.